(Blackwell Handbooks in Linguistics)

Edited by Eva M. Fernández & Helen Smith Cairns

2017年9月出版予定 768ページ ハードカバー ¥35,170

Published by Wiley-Blackwell

ISBN: 978-1-118-82950-9

Incorporating approaches from linguistics and psychology, The Handbook of Psycholinguistics explores language processing and language acquisition from an array of perspectives and features cutting edge research from cognitive science, neuroscience, and other related fields.

The Handbook provides readers with a comprehensive review of the current state of the field, with an emphasis on research trends most likely to determine the shape of psycholinguistics in the years ahead. The chapters are organized into three parts, corresponding to the major areas of psycholinguistics: production, comprehension, and acquisition. The collection of chapters, written by a team of international scholars, incorporates multilingual populations and neurolinguistic dimensions. Each of the three sections also features an overview chapter in which readers are introduced to the different theoretical perspectives guiding research in the area covered in that section.

Timely, comprehensive, and authoritative, The Handbook of Psycholinguistics is a valuable addition to the reference shelves of researchers in psychology, linguistics, and cognitive science, as well as advanced undergraduates and graduate students interested in how language works in the human mind and how language is acquired.

Notes on Contributors

Introduction

Part I: Production

1. Overview (Fernanda Ferreira).
2. Syntactic Encoding: Novel Insights into the Relationship between Grammar and Processing (Julie Franck).
3. Signal Reduction and Linguistic Encoding (T. Florian Jaeger and Esteban Buz)
4. Production in Bilingual and Multilingual Speakers (Daniela Paolieri, Luis Morales, & Teresa Bajo)
5. Production of Signed Utterances (Ronnie B. Wilbur).
6. Parity and Disparity in Conversational Interaction (Jennifer S. Pardo).
7. Models Linking Production and Comprehension (Chiara Gambi and Martin J. Pickering).

Part II: Comprehension

8. Overview (Eva M. Fernández and Helen Smith Cairns).
9. Speech Perception: Research, Theory, and Clinical Application (David B. Pisoni).
10. Cross-Language and Second Language Speech Perception (Ocke-Schwen Bohn).
11. Models of Lexical Access and Morphological Processing (Petar Milin Eva Smolka, and Laurie Beth Feldman).
12. Orthography, Word Recognition, and Reading (David Braze and Tao Gong).
13. The Bilingual Lexicon (Judith F. Kroll and Fengyang Ma).
14. Sentence Processing and Interpretation in Monolinguals and Bilinguals (Matthew J. Traxler, Liv J. Hoversten, and Trevor A. Brothers).
15. The Comprehension of Anaphora and Verb Agreement (Janet L. Nicol and Andrew Barss).
16. Prosody in Sentence Processing (Elizabeth Pratt).
17. Semantic-Pragmatic Processing (Petra B. Schumacher).

18. Comprehension in Older Adult Populations: Healthy Aging, Aphasia, and Dementia (Jet M. J. Vonk, Eve Higby, and Loraine K. Obler).

19. Neurolinguistic Studies of Sentence Comprehension (Michael A. Skeide and Angela D. Friederici).

Part III: Acquisition

20. Overview (Virginia Valian).

21. Speech Perception in Infants: Propagating the Effects of Language Experience (Catherine T. Best).

22. Children's Performance Abilities: Language Production (Cecile McKee, Dana McDaniel, and Merrill F. Garrett).

23. Language Comprehension in Monolingual and Bilingual Children (Krista Byers-Heinlein and Casey Lew-Williams).

24. Names for Things... and Actions and Events: Following in the Footsteps of Roger Brown (Dani Levine, Kristina Strother-Garcia, Kathy Hirsh-Pasek, and Roberta Michnick Golinkoff).

25. The Acquisition of Morphology (Kamil Ud Deen).

26. The Acquisition of Syntax (Nina Hyams and Robyn Orfitelli).

27. Social Interaction and Language Acquisition: Towards a Neurobiological View (Sarah Roseberry-Lytle and Patricia K. Kuhl).

28. Bilingual Acquisition: A Morphosyntactic Perspective on Simultaneous and Early Successive Language Development (Jürgen M. Meisel).

29. The Development of Morphosyntax in Child and Adult Second Language Acquisition (Gita Martohardjono and Elaine C. Klein).

30. Signed Language Acquisition: Input (Judy Kegl).

Advances in Cultural Linguistics

(Series: Cultural Linguistics)

Edited by Farzad Sharifian

Springer – May 2017, Hardcover: 745 pages

ISBN 9789811040559 ¥32,280

This groundbreaking collection represents the broad scope of cutting-edge research in Cultural Linguistics, a burgeoning field of interdisciplinary inquiry into the relationships between language and cultural cognition. The materials surveyed in its chapters demonstrate how cultural conceptualisations encoded in language relate to all aspects of human life - from emotion and embodiment to kinship, religion, marriage and politics, even the understanding of life and death. Cultural Linguistics draws on cognitive science, complexity science and distributed cognition, among other disciplines, to strengthen its theoretical and analytical base. The tools it has developed have worked toward insightful investigations into the cultural grounding of language in numerous applied domains, including World Englishes, cross-cultural/intercultural pragmatics, intercultural communication, Teaching English as an International Language (TEIL), and political discourse analysis.

Epistemic Stance in Dialogue:

Knowing, Unknowing, Believing

(Series: Dialogue Studies, Vol 29)

by Andrzej Zuczkowski, Ramona Bongelli & Ilaria Riccioni

John Benjamins - April 2017, 325 pages, Hardcover ISBN 9789027210463 $28,490

This volume presents a theoretical and practical model for analysing epistemic stance in dialogues, i.e. the positions both epistemic (commitment) and evidential (source of information) which speakers take in the here and now of communication with regard to the information they are conveying and which they express through lexical and morphosyntactic means.

According to the results of our studies of different types of corpora, these positions can be reduced to three basic ones: Knowing, Unknowing, Believing (KUB).

In the first part of the book, we present the KUB model and its psychological and linguistic backgrounds. In the second part, we provide an exemplary application of the model, by presenting the qualitative and quantitative analysis of dialogues belonging to different genres and contexts.

The volume is addressed to scholars concerned with the topical issues from a theoretical and analytical perspective.

Cognitive Linguistics: An Introduction, 2nd Edition

by Vyvyan Evans

Edinburgh University Press - Feb 2018, Hardcover

ISBN 9781474405218 ¥27,050

An authoritative general introduction to cognitive linguistics, this book provides up-to-date coverage of all areas of the field and sets in context recent developments within cognitive semantics (including primary metaphors, conceptual blending and Principled Polysemy), and cognitive approaches to grammar (including Radical Construction Grammar and Embodied Construction Grammar). While all topics are introduced in terms accessible to both undergraduate and postgraduate students, this work is sufficiently comprehensive and detailed to serve as a reference work for scholars from linguistics and neighbouring disciplines who wish to gain a better understanding of cognitive linguistics.

The book is divided into three parts (The cognitive linguistics enterprise; Cognitive semantics; and Cognitive approaches to grammar), and is therefore suitable for a range of different course types, both in terms of length and level, as well as in terms of focus. In addition to defining the field, the text also includes appropriate critical evaluation. Complementary and potentially competing approaches are explored both within the cognitive approach and beyond it. In particular, cognitive linguistics is compared and contrasted with formal approaches including Generative Grammar, formal approaches to semantics, and Relevance Theory.

The Cognitive Psychology of Speech Related Gesture

Feyereisen, P.

Routledge - Aug 2017, 240pp., Hardback ISBN 9781138702738 ¥21,950

(Paperback: 9781138702745 ¥7,390)

Why do we gesture when we speak? The Cognitive Psychology of Speech Related Gesture offers answers to this question while introducing readers to the huge interdisciplinary field of gesture. Drawing on ideas from cognitive psychology, this book highlights key debates in gesture research alongside advocating new approaches to conventional thinking.

The Handbook of Dialectology

Edited by Charles Boberg, John Nerbonne & Dominic Watt

Wiley-Blackwell - Aug 2017, 616 pages, Hardback, ISBN 9781118827550 ¥35,170

The Handbook of Dialectology provides an authoritative, up-to-date and unusually broad account of the study of dialect, in one volume. Each chapter reviews essential research, and offers a critical discussion of the past, present and future development of the area. The volume is based on state-of-the-art research in dialectology around the world, providing the most current work available with an unusually broad scope of topics. Provides a practical guide to the many methodological and statistical issues surrounding the collection and analysis of dialect data. Offers summaries of dialect variation in the world's most widely spoken and commonly studied languages, including several non-European languages that have traditionally received less attention in general discussions of dialectology. Reviews the intellectual development of the field, including its main theoretical schools of thought and research traditions, both academic and applied. The editors are well known and highly respected, with a deep knowledge of this vast field of inquiry.

The Handbook of Linguistics, 2nd Edition

Edited by Mark Aronoff & Janie Rees-Miller

Wiley-Blackwell - Apr 2017, 712 pages, Hardback ISBN 9781405186766 ¥35,170

"The first edition of this Handbook is built on surveys by well-known figures from around the world and around the intellectual world, reflecting several different theoretical predilections, balancing coverage of enduring questions and important recent work. Those strengths are now enhanced by adding new chapters and thoroughly revising almost all other chapters, partly to reflect ways in which the field has changed in the intervening twenty years, in some places radically. The result is a magnificent volume that can be used for many purposes."

David W. Lightfoot, Georgetown University

"The Handbook of Linguistics, Second edition is a stupendous achievement. Aronoff and Rees-Miller have provided overviews of 29 subfields of linguistics, each written by one of the leading researchers in that subfield and each impressively crafted in both style and content. I know of no finer resource for anyone who would wish to be better informed on recent developments in linguistics."

Frederick J. Newmeyer, University of Washington, U of British Columbia and Simon Fraser U

"Linguists, their students, colleagues, family, and friends: anyone interested in the latest findings from a wide array of linguistic subfields will welcome this second updated and expanded edition of The Handbook of Linguistics. Leading scholars provide highly accessible yet substantive introductions to their fields: it's an even more valuable resource than its predecessor."

The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning

Edited by Carol A. Chapelle, & Shannon Sauro

Wiley-Blackwell - Aug 2017, 504 pages, Hardback ISBN 9781118914038 ¥35,170

The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning presents a comprehensive exploration of the impact of technology on the field of second language learning. The rapidly evolving language-technology interface has propelled dramatic changes in, and increased opportunities for, second language teaching and learning. Its influence has been felt no less keenly in the approaches and methods of assessing learners' language and researching language teaching and learning.

Contributions from a team of international scholars make up the Handbook consisting of four parts: language teaching and learning through technology; the technology-pedagogy interface; technology for L2 assessment; and research and development of technology for language learning. It considers how technology assists in all areas of language development, the emergence of pedagogy at the intersection of language and technology, technology in language assessment, and major research issues in research and development of technologies for language learning. It covers all aspects of language including grammar, vocabulary, reading, writing, listening, speaking, pragmatics, and intercultural learning, as well as new pedagogical and assessment approaches, and new ways of conceiving and conducting research and development.

The Handbook of Technology and Second Language Teaching and Learning demonstrates the extensive, multifaceted implications of technology for language teachers, learners, materials-developers, and researchers.

The Handbook of Translation and Cognition

Edited by John W. Schwieter & Aline Ferreira

Wiley-Blackwell - May 2017, 600 pages, Hardback ISBN 9781119241430 ¥35,170

The Handbook of Translation and Cognition is a pioneering, state-of-the-art investigation of cognitive approaches to translation and interpreting studies (TIS).

Offers timely and cutting-edge coverage of the most important theoretical frameworks and methodological innovations.

Contains original contributions from a global group of leading researchers from 18 countries.

Explores topics related to translator and workplace characteristics including machine translation, creativity, ergonomic perspectives, and cognitive effort, and competence, training, and interpreting such as multimodal processing, neurocognitive optimization, process-oriented pedagogies, and conceptual change.

Maps out future directions for cognition and translation studies, as well as areas in need of more research within this dynamic field.

A New Approach to Stuttering: Diagnosis and Therapy

(Series: Speech and Language Disorders)

Edited by Zbigniew Tarkowski

Nova Science - Jan 2017, 215 pages, Hardcover
ISBN 9781634856409 ¥34,260

"Professor Zbigniew Tarkowski has been researching and effectively treating stuttering for many years. Contrary to a popular nihilist approach, he refuses to accept stuttering and make it fluent. Instead, he believes in the idea of shaping motivation to therapy and applying effective methods of treatment. He supports a systems therapy aimed at problems faced by a patient or his/her social environment. The comprehensive therapeutic method applied by Tarkowski influences the four key parts of the structure of stuttering: speech disfluency, logophobia, muscle tension and readiness to communicate. Tarkowski values in-depth diagnosis embedded in therapy and offers a number of useful techniques to be applied every day. The book is a polemic which encourages one to review their beliefs and offers an optimistic perspective for the future." - Dr. Hab. Grażyna Jastrzębowska, University of Opole, Opole, Poland

The Psychology of Language and Communication

By Geoffrey Beattie, & Andrew W Ellis

Routledge - May 2017, 292 pages, Hardback:
ISBN 9781138734517 ¥21,950

This is a classic edition of Geoffrey Beattie's and Andrew Ellis' influential introduction to the psychology of human language and communication, now including a new reflective introduction from the authors. Drawing on elements from many sub-disciplines, including cognitive and social psychology, psycholinguistics and neuropsychology, the book offers an approach which breaches conventional disciplinary boundaries. Exploring the diverse nature of communication, Beattie and Ellis focus on the range of human communicative channels and the variations which occur both between and within societies and cultures.

Written from an informative and entertaining historical perspective, The Psychology of Language and Communication remains a key resource for anyone interested in the psychology of communication, language and linguistics, 30 years on from its first publication.

The Routledge Handbook of Language and Humor

Edited by Salvatore Attardo

Routledge - Feb 2017, 540 pages, 3 B/W Illus.

Hardback: 9781138843066 ¥40,440

The Routledge Handbook of Language and Humor presents the first ever comprehensive, in-depth treatment of all the sub-fields of the linguistics of humor, broadly conceived as the intersection of the study of language and humor. The reader will find a thorough historical, terminological, and theoretical introduction to the field, as well as detailed treatments of the various approaches to language and humor. Deliberately comprehensive and wide-ranging, the handbook includes chapter-long treatments on the traditional topics covered by language and humor (e.g., teasing, laughter, irony, psycholinguistics, discourse analysis, the major linguistic theories of humor, translation) but also cutting-edge treatments of internet humor, cognitive linguistics, relevance theoretic, and corpus-assisted models of language and humor. Some chapters, such as the variationist sociolinguistics, stylistics, and politeness are the first-ever syntheses of that particular subfield. Clusters of related chapters, such as conversation analysis, discourse analysis and corpus-assisted analysis allow multiple perspectives on complex trans-disciplinary phenomena. This handbook is an indispensable reference work for all researchers interested in the interplay of language and humor, within linguistics, broadly conceived, but also in neighboring disciplines such as literary studies, psychology, sociology, anthropology, etc. The authors are among the most distinguished scholars in their fields.
